NACC0002
Revit Conceptual Modelling and Adaptive Components

HELLO THERE, OUR DREAM IS TO HELP YOU MAKE GREAT HAPPEN

Build your career with Revit

Learn how to create conceptual and adaptive forms using Revit Architecture software. Break free from the traditional constraints of Revit and build the skills to help validate your designs through visualisation and data extraction. You will gain skills in massing and creating adaptive components, as well as understand their application in building design. This is an ideal short course for Architects, Building Designers, Interior Designers and Technicians.
